

Vic USW COVID-19 Update #8 – April 13, 2020

One-hour On-line Information/Question and Answer Meetings for Victoria University USW Members

Up to last week, the Union had been focusing on e-newsletters and written bulletins to keep members of Local 1998 up to date on the latest developments on how the COVID-19 pandemic was affecting the university workplace in general and the Victoria University workplace specifically. Then, on three days last week, the Union held Zoom information/question and answer meetings for all members of the Local, with an emphasis on the University of Toronto. This week there will be three Zoom meetings that will focus on the Victoria University membership. The dates and times of these Vic meetings are listed below.

There are two ways you can submit questions you would like the Union to respond to during the meetings. The first is to send your questions to john.ankenman@usw1998.ca by 12:00 pm on Wednesday, April 15. The second is to ask your questions during one of the meetings using the Zoom chat function. During the Zoom meetings, questions will be answered without the submitter's name being mentioned. The questions and responses will be published anonymously in a future e-bulletin and on the Local 1998 web site.

You can access the Zoom meetings from a computer or smart phone by using the on-line link for each meeting or by calling one of the Zoom telephone numbers. Connection details are provided below.
